Kaiku Root Headphone Stand

Kaiku Root Headphone Stand combines durability, functionality, and timeless design. Crafted from either solid oak or concrete, the stand offers excellent stability and is suitable for many different headphone models. Its clean, minimalist form makes it a stylish addition to any desk, studio, or workspace—keeping your headphones easily accessible and beautifully displayed.

Kaiku headphones feature a distinctive Scandinavian design highlighted by a unique wooden headband, making each pair truly one of a kind. Every headband is handcrafted in Finland using carefully selected materials. The wooden structure provides strength and durability while remaining flexible – ensuring a comfortable and natural fit on the head.

A dark, minimalist image showing a curved, metallic-looking surface. The surface is illuminated from the left, creating a soft gradient from dark grey to a lighter, almost white highlight along the curve. On the right side, there is a faint, stylized 'K' logo. The overall composition is clean and modern, emphasizing the texture and form of the object.
